UNIVERSITY of PENNSYLVANIA

INSTRUCTIONS

We invite all members of the Penn community to initiate a meal between students (undergraduate, and graduate/professional students) and mentors (i.e. current or past professors, teaching assistants, advisors, RAs, PHINS, Peer Advisors, and members of Penn's professional staff) to enjoy free food and engage in an intellectual conversation! Program options range from 1-on-1 experiences to large meals organized for classes and groups up to 100 students!

Lunch is available Mondays through Thursdays. A valid Penn card is required at the University Club. Dinner at dining cafes is available by request, please contact Ray Franckewitz, rayf@upenn.edu to do so.

Mentor or Host of the meal must book reservation through the Iris system, please read the instructions in the next page.

Location: University Club at the Inn at Penn
Address: 3600 Sansom St, Philadelphia, PA 19104

STEP ONE

Please read through the Program Guideline page and check the “Yes” box before clicking the “Next” button.

Introduction

The Penn Mentor Meals Program encourages students and their mentors to engage in intellectual or casual conversation outside of the classroom and simultaneously provide them with the opportunity to do so free of charge over lunch.

All members of the Penn community can initiate a meal between students and mentors (i.e. current or past professors, teaching assistants, learning assistants, research mentors, advisors, RAs, PH-INS, Peer Advisors, and members of Penn's professional staff). Program options range from 1-on-1 experiences to large meals organized for classes and groups.

Lunch is served at University Club at Penn.

Group Sizes
Small Groups (maximum of 4 participants including 1 Faculty/Mentor)
Large Groups for Faculty Hosted Meals Only (more than 4 participants including 1 Faculty)

Student Hosts are limited to one (1) meal with a specific host/mentor per semester and can participate as a host/guest for a maximum of five (5) meals per semester.

Faculty/Mentor Hosts are limited to one (1) meal with a specific class/group per semester. Large classes/groups can be split into multiple small group meals.
