MURAL MILE

Overview:

Philadelphia is the world's largest outdoor art gallery - the city is home to more than 3,600 murals. In 1984, Mural Arts Philadelphia was founded to help eradicate graffiti and has since blossomed into a massive, city-wide project. Explore a small fraction of the murals Philadelphia has to offer on this combination of the two Mural Mile tours. Be prepared to walk!

Transportation:

To get to the mile starting point: Take the Market – Frankford Line to 15th Street.
To return to Penn: Take the Market – Frankford Line from 15th Street to 34th Street or 40th Street.

FUN FACTS

NSOAI PHINS Track '24

The Mural Arts Program is the largest public art program in the United States.

Mural Arts collaborates with communities on 50 to 100 public art projects annually and sustains its expanding collection through a dedicated restoration effort.

Each year, 15,000 residents and visitors take tours of Mural Arts' outdoor art gallery, which has become a cornerstone of Philadelphia's civic identity and a renowned source of pride and inspiration, solidifying the city's international recognition as the "Mural Capital of the World."
